George Rottkamp is a Senior Accountant here at DSJ. George joined our company when we merged practices with Howard Oconefsky in 2018. Since then, he has been a major asset to our tax team.

George prepares high level, complex returns for reviewers. A hard-working individual, it's not unlikely to see George at work early in the morning and later in the evening to ensure that each return has been attended to and that no client goes unheard. Specifically, throughout the challenges of the pandemic, George played a key role in keeping constant communication between our at-home and in-office staff; he has helped tremendously in making this transition seamless for both our employees and clients.

George is a fan of the New York Jets and Mets. He spends his free time at home relaxing before coming back to our office with his positive and helpful work ethic.
